

makingmovies makesense

understanding and using film language

This unique CD-ROM (Mac and PC) will help children and young people to understand film language. Clear explanations – copiously illustrated with photographs and video and audio clips – show how camera, lighting, colour, sound and editing affect how we read and understand moving images.

Rollover buttons provide extra detail, and 'how-to' pages help put the theory into practice. Making movies make sense also explains how to go about making a film, from the initial concept to organising your filming and editing. Includes additional printable resources and Web link.

System requirements Recent Web browser, QuickTime 6.5 (included); minimum display size 800 x 600.

Pricing Single user £30.00    5 user £60.00    50 user site licence £250
